

SANSKRUTI

Corner of Ormond/Bixteth Street.

Your visit to this beautiful city wouldn't be complete without a trip to one of the best Indian restaurants (in my humble opinion) outside of India! Tucked away in the quieter business district of the city is Sanskruti. It's a fully vegetarian and vegan restaurant with cuisine to die for. Their extensive menu boasts everything from traditional Indian street food to healthy options and a wide variety of unique dishes that would even surprise non-vegans. You cannot beat their jackfruit curry, mopped up with their amazing family garlic naan and washed down with a bottle of vegan red.

THE OLD HARDWARE SHOP

8 Woolton Street, Woolton Village.

Just a short distance away from the city centre in the south of Liverpool is a little hidden gem. The Old Hardware Shop is a fully vegan café which is both quirky and charming, selling arguably the best vegan milkshakes in the world – not to mention the king of all vegan breakfasts and themed daily specials. The café is super friendly with the nicest staff you will ever meet and you can even purchase 'Pretty Sweet Vegan' which is their very own brand of cake mixes.

VEGGIE REPUBLIC

16 Cook Street.

Veggie Republic are the new kids on the block, having only recently opened in November 2018. Despite this, they have made a big impression! With simple yet cosy décor nestled in a unique listed building, this is a perfect option for a spot of lunch or an evening meal. What I really like about this place is the variety of their menu – they have everything from indulgent burgers and chips, lasagne, fish and chips to healthy salads. Their motto is to show anything can be veganised and tasty.

WHERE TO STAY

Although there are no fully vegan places to stay in Liverpool (yet!) there are plenty of hotels around the city. If you find yourself in the Sefton Park area, try out Greenday's café for a vegan breakfast. Or if you fancy going self-catering, visit Balance Wholefoods, Purple Carrot, Honest to Goodness and Chia Chia to stock up on vegan goodies.
